

Stardust Dreaming Protocells

Daniel Lappin, Interogenesis Designs, Mill Valley, United States

If we trust that our true origin is indeed stardust then let us open our seeing to a way of being to engage curiosity and invite wise reasoning.

That we are stardust dreaming streaming

an inner intelligence of our primordial being.

With intention

look in a new direction for origin of life detection.

For the wisdom of the origin of life is conserved and reserved

For the artist and scientist who open its door seeking to explore.

LUCA speaks within and expresses the passion and mystery of our primordial history.

As you seek your astrobiology discovery engage curiosity intrinsically.

Descend into the roots of the inner ancient tree that sprouts within thee.

Turn back the molecular clock and unravel genetic mutation by inviting primordial contemplation and seek intrinsic revelation of the story that is told of how life unfolds.

Let us refine scientific history to affirm that exploration of our inner space holds a trace of deep ancestry.

For the Scientific Revolution was not the whole solution.

On discovery's path the tapestry of the arts are needed to understand how the earth was seeded and how protocells proceeded.

Into a systems biology weaving of the original, umbilical conceiving of stardust dreaming protocells into all that is alive.

We are the remembrance and descendants.

Expressing cosmic surging and evolutionary diverging into an inner fountain emerging.

Drink from this fountain.

And drunken with creativity an artist of astrobiology you'll be .

Enhancing scientific inquiry and discovery for the benefit of humanity.
